Lansing—the State Capital, is gain sight with relief.

The state legislature, now winding up its fifth month, is due to go some this week.

An adjournment of the legislature is always an occasion for retiring by legislators, state officials and legislative agents. This year's event will be more so.

The 1947 session has been distinguished by constant confusion.

Although Republicans have been in complete control of both the House and Senate, leadership has been noticeably wobbly and actions have confounded even-most important measures. New tar-grams have emerged periodically

with bewildering and contradictory upsets. For utter confusion the 1947 session was the rst in 24 years, according to

C. Espie of Eagle, veteran

man of the important House and Means Committee.

In 1930 an extension was added to the route for the summer months, which took in Danish

Landing and McIntyre's Landing

on Lake Margrete. Until 1940

the route operated as a tri-week-

route, having service on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week during the winter months, with daily service during the period of June 15 through September 15.

The route begins from the Post

Office up Michigan Ave. to Rose-

Street, north to the County Road

and U. S. 27, and continues on M-

93 to serve the lake district and

Camp Grayling, continuing from there to Beaver Creek, serving the territory to the Five Mile Corner, returning on U. S. 27 to the Post Office.

In his time as carrier, Mr. King has served under two postmasters,

and has worn out six automobiles,

and has traveled over 101,250 miles,

equivalent to four times around the earth at the Equator.

By his retirement, Mr. King will be missed by the patrons of the route and the personnel of the Post Office, especially those who

so frequently missed their pencils.

Mr. King was also acting postmaster at Wellington in the Beau-ver Creek settlement in 1911 and 1912. He was then appointed postmaster there for two years.

He also saw Government service in the U. S. Navy as Bosun's Mate,

2nd Class, in 1907-1908.

We look back on this five-

basic reasons why this con-

legislators should not be criticized.

Institutional ear-marking of

The words of Governor Sigler,

tunity to consider and evaluate all

needs for public expenditure"

tanting that such is the case, it

The prospect for a solution of the constitutional problem—this ear-marking of funds—is none too right. If the House approves a constitutional commission, the Sigler

administration can rightfully point

satisfaction to a constructive to toward modernization of the

the charter.

Until this is done, Michigan

will continue to struggle along the handicap of an off-

constitution—which has taken away from the legis-

the power to spend public revenue according to changing

s. This curb may reflect a of public confidence in the le-ture. From first impression it would seem to be the case.

Chris King Retires From Mail Service After Twenty Years

Christopher R. King retired as mail carrier on R. F. D. No. 1, Grayling, Michigan, May 31, 1947, after 20 years of service.

Mr. King was appointed substitute carrier on September 1, 1927, and promoted to regular carrier on May 1, 1928, and has received six promotions as regular.

At the time he took over the route, there were 27 boxes and 33 families being served; at the time of his retirement there were 88 boxes and 92 families being served. When he took over the route, he covered a mileage of 25 miles, which included an extension to Teetown (present site of the Grayling Army Airfield), which was discontinued in 1928 when the Star Route to Lewiston was established and that portion of the route was absorbed on the Star Route.

In 1930 an extension was added to the route for the summer months, which took in Danish Landing and McIntyre's Landing on Lake Margrete. Until 1940 the route operated as a tri-weekly route, having service on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week during the winter months, with daily service during the period of June 15 through September 15.

The route begins from the Post Office up Michigan Ave. to Rose Street, north to the County Road and U. S. 27, and continues on M-93 to serve the lake district and Camp Grayling, continuing from there to Beaver Creek, serving the territory to the Five Mile Corner, returning on U. S. 27 to the Post Office.

In his time as carrier, Mr. King has served under two postmasters, and has worn out six automobiles, and has traveled over 101,250 miles, equivalent to four times around the earth at the Equator.

Surviving are his widow, Mary; nine children: Orlo, Lucy, Irene, Walter, Dominic Jr., Francis J., Tomaso J., all students in local schools, and Mary T., Delores A., and Gerald, at home; a brother, Quintillo S. of Seattle; and a sister, Mrs. Leo Vanni, of Waukeet, Iowa.

According to Sheriff William Golnick, who investigated, the accident occurred shortly after midnight at the Lake Street crossing. The southbound New York Central train struck Galvani's automobile broadside and crushed it between the engine and a freight car on an adjoining track. The automobile was ripped apart and wreckage strewn along the tracks for 200 feet.

If anyone found a black notebook along the railroad right-of-way at the scene of the fatal crash, it is urgently requested that it be returned to Mercy Hospital, as it contains many records that are important to Mrs. Galvani. She also requests that anyone owing Mr. Galvani leave the money at the hospital.

The camp will be known as Camp Nor-Way. It is located on a 40-acre plot, one mile from McMaster's Bridge. The property was formerly owned by George Burke of Grayling. Mr. Trombley, the camp's director, is a resident of Mount Clemens.

The camp will be devoted, under expert guidance, to the promotion of health and happiness of boys from nine to fifteen years of age. Director Trombley said. About 25 boys will be at the camp during each two-week period, he added.

As was pointed out, the new camp has the distinction of being remote from the hustle and bustle, yet readily accessible. It offers the thrill of wooded isolation, yet is easily reached on main highways.

The program of vacation activities will include softball, baseball, basketball, volleyball, swimming, fishing, croquet, ping pong, hiking, drift boating, picnicking, and group games. Among the many impromptu activities will be song fests, treasure hunts, quiz programs, and talent shows. Mr. Trombley said.

A new boys' camp will be opened by Frank R. Trombley on the North Branch of the AuSable, 20 miles east of Grayling, June 15. The camp will operate for five periods of two weeks each this summer, it has been announced.

Spends Leave At Filipino Resort

Private First Class Donald E. Barber, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Barber, of 308 Chestnut, Grayling, Michigan, recently spent an eleven day leave in Baguio, Luzon, summer capital and playground of the Philippines, as a guest of Camp John Hay Recreational and Furough Center.

A student of Grayling High School prior to induction into the Army on April 1, 1946, Pfc. Barber left for overseas service the following July, and is now serving with the Motor Pool of Headquarters and Service Company of the 618th OBAM Battalion in the Philippines.

In 1930 an extension was added to the route for the summer months, which took in Danish Landing and McIntyre's Landing on Lake Margrete. Until 1940 the route operated as a tri-weekly route, having service on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week during the winter months, with daily service during the period of June 15 through September 15.

In The Name Of Freedom . . .

Freedom is always destroyed in the name of freedom.

This is one of the tragic lessons to be found in the bloody history of the modern world. Mussolini invented Fascism in the name of liberty for the Italian people—and promptly enslaved them in the police state he created. Hitler came to power with a rallying cry of German rights and liberties—and embarked upon an unparalleled reign of terror within the borders of the Reich. Today, the Soviet Union is pushing out the ruthless tenacles of Communism—also in the name of freedom and democracy.

There is one other lesson modern history should have taught us all, and it is this: There can be no real freedom in the super-state. Liberty and all-powerful government are completely incompatible. Power, and the ruthlessness which power breeds, feed upon themselves. Well-intentioned men are cast aside, and dictators take their places. Every fundamental human right is brutally abrogated when it comes in conflict with the ambitions of the leaders.

A nation which weakens its basic liberties in any way gives a hostage to fortune. A nation which depends upon government to perform services which are the proper function of the private individual and of private enterprise is, unwittingly, preparing the way for regimentation and ultimate dictatorship. Now that England is socializing its basic industries, thoughtful observers see a weakening of liberties which have existed there for nearly a thousand years. There must be no vacillation on the part of the people of our own country in opposing European philosophies in our domestic affairs.

But we believe that the root of the conflict goes deeper than that.

As long as one agency of government collects money and another agency of government spends it, we will continue to have a breakdown in tax responsibility. The sales tax has become "Lansing money", 76 percent of which is spent now by local units of government. A dollar collected at Lansing or Washington has a tendency of becoming the "other fellow's" dollar—not your dollar.

This breakdown in tax responsibility invites an ever-increasing demand for spending by government. The needs of the people are unending and inexhaustible; pressure groups will continue to seek more state aid for their privileged use—worthy as it may be. The problem is "tremendously difficult", to quote Governor Siger, and the answer will not be easy to find. Michigan sorely needs a revised and modernized constitution.

POWER FLIGHT

They know it's good by experience . . . just as you, too, will discover when you try your first tankful of Power Flight Gasoline. G-O-O-D is a conservative rating for this war-developed gasoline with its split-second starting, glider-smooth action and remarkable lugging power where the going is tough. Every drop of Power Flight is as good as modern refining science can produce from selected crudes.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Suit pending in the Circuit Court for the County of Crawford in Chancery, on the 28th day of May, 1947.

On reading and filing the bill of complaint in this cause and the affidavit of Charles E. Moore, attorney for said plaintiff, attached thereto, from which it appears to the court that the above named defendants, or their unknown
heirs, devisees, legatees or assigns, are proper and necessary parties defendant in said cause, and that
after diligent search and inquiry
it can not be ascertained and is not known whether said defendants are living or dead, or where any of them may reside if living, and if dead, whether they have personal representatives or heirs living, or where they or any of them may be, and that the present whereabouts of said defendants is unknown,
and that the names of the persons included therein without being named but who are embraced therein under the title of unknown heirs, devisees, legatees
and assigns, can not be ascertained
after diligent search and inquiry.

Whereas, It appears to and is the opinion of this Council that the City of Grayling is in need of certain public improvements,
namely, a municipal garage, general street improvement program, water and sewer mains, and

Whereas, It further appears that such improvements can be made and financed only through issuing bonds of said City, and

Whereas, It is the opinion of this Council that a survey of the aforesaid improvements and an estimate of the cost thereof should be made before any further action is taken thereon, and

Whereas, It is the further opinion
of this Council that the City Manager, George Granger, being a graduate civil engineer, and being familiar with the needs of said
City and the materials and labor required for making said improvements, is competent to make said
survey and estimate,

Now, Therefore, It Is Herby
Resolved, That said City Manager be and he is hereby authorized and instructed to make the aforesaid survey and estimate and to report
the same in writing to this Council at the next regular meeting thereof.

Yea: Carlson, Hayes, Burke,
Tufts, Gothro.

Petition received from Holger
D. Hanson, Grayling Mercantile Company, Shappengangs Inn and Geo. N. Olson for an alley at the rear of their property in Block 8, Original Plat. The petition was referred to the City Manager to contact the various property owners involved to try and obtain easements and right of way for said alley.

Moved and supported that the meeting be adjourned. Motion carried.

George A. Granger,
City Clerk.

Michelson Memorial Church School Notes

(Too late for last week's issue) Perfect attendance pins were awarded in the primary department for the month of May to the following: Pre-school class—Ann Marie Stancl, Arnold Stancl, Billy Trowbridge, Carmen Madson, Joey Robertson, Teddy Horning; Kindergarten—Junior Horning, Maryda Stillwagon, Larry Trowbridge, Alan and Albert Johnson, Susan Kay Wiggins; First Grade—Judy Larson, Connie Millikin, Betty Horning, Larry Andrews, Roger Nelson, Richard Davis; Second—Billy Martin, Martha Stillwagon, Newton Allison, Betty Decker; Third—Mary Jane Wakeley, Mary Richardson, Jonas Newell, Ilene Horning, Andrea Brown, Hans Andrews, John Robertson.

Rainy weather as well as the absence of the Boy Scouts contributed to a definite slump in attendance. For the second consecutive week the high school class earned the attendance banner. Ten intermediates are registered.

Rev. E. H. DuBois Sr.

Rev. E. M. DuBois Sr. will conduct night services at the Calvary Baptist Church here from June 8 through June 15. Services for children will be conducted from 6:15 to 7:30 each evening, followed by adult worship from 8 until 9 o'clock. Rev. DuBois is a pastor, evangelist, Bible teacher and children-worker. The public is cordially invited to the services, which will include special singing and instrumental music.

Labor Monopolies
Cloud Business Sky

Monopoly labor union power in essential industries has become a new factor to consider in judging economic trends, according to William K. Jackson, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

"To an extraordinary degree," he said, "the business trend has come under the influence of labor-management relations.

"The rise and fall of the business curve in 1946 closely followed the rise and fall of man-hours lost in strikes. The sensitivity of total production to strikes in essential industries was illustrated by the fall of industrial indices during strikes in steel, coal and transportation.

"It is evident, therefore, that prospects on the labor-management front dominate to an unusual extent the general business outlook.

"Some say the rash of strikes simply recapitulates economic history in the period immediately after World War I. That period like the present, was marked by rising living costs and unrest in the aftermath of war.

"But the disruption of industry by strikes cannot be dismissed by drawing a parallel with the past. Organized labor never had in 1919-20 the tremendous power it holds over industry and public welfare today."

CRAWFORD COUNTY LIBRARY

(Too late for last week's issue) The library has been busy as a beehive the past few weeks, with a term-end rush of book reports and other last-minute student activities.

The Book League's May selection is "The Quarry", by Mildred Walker. In 1934 Miss Walker won the Avery Hopwood Award for her first novel, "Fireweed". Each succeeding book has added to her fame, and she has achieved her greatest triumph as a portrayal of great drama in the lives of ordinary people in "The Quarry", her seventh book.

In general, it is the story of the Converse family, owners of a great soapstone quarry in Vermont, and not since "How Green Was My Valley" has a novel dealt so intimately with the problems of one family. In particular, it is the story of one of the three Converse sons, Lyman, of his enduring love for one woman, and his relationship with his colored foster-brother and life-long friend, Gay Williams; of his unfailing love to the Negro who rose above the tragedy of discrimination to become superintendent of the quarry and reached the final triumph of his life when his to attend camp the last of June. Word has just been received that registrations for Junior camp are limited to four from each local church for the summer.

The entire church school will remain in session, and the attendance award plans will continue to be in effect through the summer months, instead of closing as has been customary.

The next important event on the church school calendar is the picnic, June 11.

Air Power Is Peace Power

"Air power is not only military aviation, it is civil aviation; it is the aircraft industry; it is everything that goes into the aviation potential of a country. The Air Force is the military part of Air Power, the force that can be applied directly against an enemy, but everything else supports it. Any program which increases flying in the United States, which supports flying in the United States, which supports its civil airlines, which adds to the efficiency of the aeronautics industry to meet the calls of emergency, which increases air acceptance in America, is helpful to Air Power," so said Major General Fred Anderson, A.A.F., in a speech on January 22, 1947.

With Major General Anderson's remarks in mind, there certainly is no doubt that pilot training under the GI Bill of Rights has an established place in the Government's over-all Peace Program.

Rumors that the cost of training will be deducted from any bonus is obviously a result of misunderstanding.

Pilot training is the same as studying for any college course, with the added advantage of being able to be home and take your training part time. You can fulfill your home responsibilities and take part in the training program, rather than sacrificing one for the other. Veterans having doubts about the benefits they are entitled to can contact their Veterans

Organization, or the Veterans' Administration representative for verification.

The Grayling Air Service is an accredited Flying School. We have a contract with the Veterans' Administration to furnish flight training to any GI who is entitled to the benefits and can pass the physical examination.

Total cost to the veteran is: Physical Examination (by any Physician) $ 5.00 $3,000 Ins. Coverage 5.00 Log Book .75

Total Cost to Veteran $10.75 The Government pays for the balance, which includes necessary books for training, 18 hours ground school; up to 20 hours dual; up to 30 hours solo; all the training needed to qualify for a Private Pilot License.

There is no cost to the veteran

However, there is necessary paper work which must be done, such as determining entitlement, claim number, etc.

We advise that any veteran who desires to take the training bring a copy of his Discharge to our office. We will help him make out the application and necessary papers, which are then forwarded to the Veterans' Administration. When processed they are returned to the veteran. He can bring them back to this office and we will hold them until it is convenient for him to begin his course. It is important to remember that the paper work must be handled first so that we can plan and schedule the classes.

Motorists Reclaim LEONARD X-TANE

The great, new, premium gasoline

• NO KNOCK • HIGHER OCTANE COMPOUNDS • • GREATER ROAD POWER • QUICKER STARTING •

MIRACLE OF SCIENCE

High performance Leonard X-TANE gasoline is achieved only through the Houdry Process, a new catalytic refining method that produces higher octane fuel than was ever before available. Millions of dollars were spent perfecting this method to obtain high test aviation gasoline. This method of producing gasoline is as big a step forward as today's motor cars when compared with cars of twenty years ago. It is truly a miracle of science. Now LEONARD with its gigantic, new, eighteen-story high Houdry plant brings this high octane gasoline to Michigan motorists.

MORE THAN EVER
MOTORS FOR Leonard

The now, exclusive development of X-TANE gasoline is only part of Leonard's contribution to better petroleum products. Leonard's SAFETY-LUBE motor oil is the finest available. Ask your Leonard station man about other Leonard products.

Improved car performance from Leonard X-TANE is making a great hit with Michigan motorists. Leonard stations throughout the state report enthusiastic response from drivers. We know this would happen. If you haven't tried it, drive in for a tankful today... see what this new gasoline means in less knocking, quicker starting, greater road power and improved performance.

LEONARD
STATIONS

Your Leonard station is ready to serve you with the new Leonard X-TANE gasoline. You can obtain X-TANE regular or X-TANE Ethyl. Whichever grade you are accustomed to using will provide performance you have never experienced before.

Owners of tractors with high compression heads are especially urged to try the new Leonard X-TANE gasoline... it means greater power and greater economy.

"Well?" His voice was demanding.

"I beg pardon, sir, but your grandmother is anxious to start dinner." He bowed politely and left.

them.

Kit, standing beside Basil, looking at the group in the room they were about to enter, thought she would never forget the picture of the family before her as long as she lived. Jennifer Martin was seated at the fireplace, her small hands nervously crocheting an intricate piece of work upon which her eyes rested only for second intervals. Henry, Basil's father, was standing beside her, much the faithful son in subservient position. Mrs. Martin, Henry's wife, was sitting at the grand piano, playing the first strains of Beethoven's Sonata. It was the perfect home fireside picture of a contented family—that is, until one looked at the face of each character. Henry's was a theme of utter boredom at the moment, the greed and selfishness having been temporarily covered over. His wife's too pleasant greeting told plainly of her insincerity, while the wrinkled face of the old lady at the fireside wore an unchangeable expression of a long-practiced mask. It was impossible to read behind it. There was cruelty there—and determination.

Basil introduced her to his grandmother, who nodded curtly to her, acknowledging the introduction. It was then as she was standing beside the mantel that she looked up and saw the portrait of Linda. She was speechless with the beauty of it and finally when she regained her senses she spoke before she thought.

"That girl... why, I'm sure I've seen her some place!" As soon as she spoke she felt Basil's anger at her forgetfulness. Of course it was Johnny—Johnny's eyes were these eyes. Quickly correcting herself, she added, "Oh, now I know. It was someone who looks like her."

Jennifer Martin looked up at her, her small eyes searching the girl's face. After a moment, she spoke,

GOVERNOR SIGNING JUNE DAIRY MONTH

Governor Kim Sigler signing the June Dairy Month Proclamation recognizing the importance of our $200,000,000 dairy industry to the general welfare of the citizens of Michigan. Members of the Dairy Month Committee, L. N. Francke, Michigan Allied Dairy Assoc., A. C. Boltz, Michigan State College, Charles Stone, American Dairy Association, F. M. Shiver, Michigan Department of Agric., and Stanley Powell, Michigan Farm Bureau, are receiving the proclamation from Governor Sigler.

Michigan with 1,080,000 dairy cows ranks sixth in the Nation as a dairy state producing annually over 2½ billion quarts of milk, the quo of which accounts for over one-third of the farm income, in some counties it is the source of 50 to 60% of all farm income.

"Who wa..."
Kit had not expected this further inquiry and answered hesitatingly, "Why, oh, someone I'm sure you've never seen."

The old lady did not seem even aware of her answer and sat crocheting until she came to the end of her stitches. She stood, and her posture made even her short stature seem tall, and turning to Kit she spoke curtly, although the expression of her eyes belied her tone, "Perhaps I know who you mean."

And turning on her heel, she led the way to the dining-room.

Working Overtime
At the Clarion

The Centennial celebration kept the office of the Clarion busy during the next week. Deciding which of the twenty-some families should be given the place of honor as Lexington's first family was a job that entailed more than a little diplomacy.

Several nights the Clarion force stayed after hours in order to get out an extra on the eve of the celebration. It was to be a real souvenir for the people of the town and each one in the office was more than willing to give it his time.

On Wednesday night they finished most of the copy and the layouts. Thursday morning it would go to press and be ready for Friday evening, when it would go on the streets.

Johnny was working at one of the desks in the outer office as he was going over copy with both Handley and Kit.

"Hey!" he exclaimed quickly in the middle of a sentence he was dictating. "Look at the time! The Guild had better not hear of this!" It was almost twelve, to the surprise of both girls and Johnny. "Shall we call it a day and a half?"

CHAPTER V

Kit, however, did not stop her typing. She looked up for only a moment. "Can't stop here, Johnny. You'll have to wait another column and a half."

Handley slowly picked up her papers, as if trying to think of an excuse to stay on until they all should leave, but finding none, she finally went out the door, leaving Johnny and Kit alone in the outer office.

J. D. was working busily inside his office and seemed perfectly oblivious to whatever company he might still have in the building.

Johnny tried desperately not to watch Kit as she finished her work, but it was almost impossible. He noticed the soft curl of her hair that hung on her shoulders like a bright shawl. Her hands, working so methodically at the typewriter, were graceful even in their haste. So many things about her he loved. So many things.

Once he thought he could stand it no longer, that he must reach out and touch her and bring her close to him and tell her of his love. But second thought told him it was useless.

Eventually, the typewriter stopped and he was brought back to reality. Kit pulled her small beret from her drawer and sat it at the right angle on her head without the help of a mirror.

Kit did not answer him. She only looked at him with deep admiration in her eyes and something deeper in her heart she did not recognize.

The coffee had boiled over and was running down the side of the stove when they finally remembered it.
